To Whom It May Concern

Company Name Change

We are pleased to announce the change of our company name from Rokko & Associates, Inc. to HEXEL Works. Inc.

While our new company name keeps reflecting our original company vision “Ever Evolving DNA”, we will take on new challenges for a next generation of business which will not be limited only in electrical works.

Although the company name changed, it will not influence our current transactions and businesses. All further correspondences between you and our company shall refer to our new company name.

Thank you very much for your continuous support, and we hope to do more business with you in the future.

Sincerely,

Yoichi Nagae
President and CEO
HEXEL Works, Inc.
